As a strong continst to the sentimental

Mackinnon, at 2.30 p.m., on made from the Bench to-day on that subject by His Honour the Chief Justice (Sir George Phillippo). Probably the present occupant of the Bench has more thought of the real truth and the public welfare than of any subsequent triumphal march or campaign alongside of a certain section of pseudo-philanthropists at Home. With menslike Sir George Phillippo the best philanthropy evidently is that of honestly discharging present duty,-not so as to please Home factions or associations that revel in imaginary grievances, but merely because it is right and true. As we have more than once said, it is a great thing, in a small Colony like this, to have a man at the head of the Judicial Department who recognises the difference between highsounding sentimentalism and the sound legal bearings of a judicial question. We have already shown how the Secretary of State had unmercifully torn to shreds the "clap-trap" delivered by Sir John Smale from the Bench and elsewhere on the subject of alleged Slavery and those who have followed the subject up to the present will readily perceive that the ground taken up by Sir George Phillippo is an expansion of this mode of treatment. Lhat the desire of the present Chief Justice to ameliorate the lot of those who may suffer from woman's inhumanity to woman should be any less than that of his predecessor, does not follow by any meuns. George Phillippo adopts a much surer means of relieving any who are thus placed than did Sir John Smale; and his demeanour on the Beach is calculated to command for more respect than was The British Contract Packet Pekin will possible during the later years be despatched on FRIDAY, the 29th his predecessor's term of office, result of his weighty utterances will be all the more effective. In this connection, we may add that the assistance rendered to the Government, in this sensible crusade against the brothelkeepers, by the Registrar General's (Per E. E. A. & C. Telegraph Co.'s Line.) Department (as at present constituted and managed), is most valuable. Necessarily this kind of administration is carried on quietly though not secretly -honestly and straightforwardly though not ostentatiously. rities ought to be freely used. The Bishop is of opinion that government should provide for classes 1, 2, 3 and 8: the other classes he thinks fall within the scope of public. We think the scheme a good one, and well worthy of adoption in Hongkong; but as there is no municipality here, the duty would devolve either on the government or on a Committee appointed by a public meeting to consider the matter. There can be no question that much remains to be done here in the matter of organized charity, and the sooner the work is accomplished the better for

SUPREME COURT. IN ORIMINAL SESSIONS.

(Before Sir George Phillippo, Chief Justice.) Wednesday, Sept. 20. SENTENCING OF PRISONERS. The prisoners who were found guilty but who were unsentenced, were brought up this morning. DEFALOATIONS IN THE THEASURY. The first case was that of Kwok Hung

Kwai who pleaded guilty to forging the name of the Colonial Treasurer. The Attorney General said that unfortunately other three cases similar to th were discovered yesterday. His Lordship said he was sorry to hear that there had been further defalcations, and he would therefore have to impose heavier punishment than he at first intended. The prisoner was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment.

BROTHEL SLAVERY. Ho Su, the woman found guilty of purchasing one of two Annamese girls for the purposes of prostitution, was next brought up. After the prisoner had protested that she had not purchased the girl His Lording, addressing the prisoner, said, you have been convicted of purchasing Wong Kam Mui for the purposes of prestitution. The jury did not you on the other counts, and quite agree with the view the jury have taken. According to law no person is at liberty to purchase a girl for the purposes of prostitution. The ordinance save "Whoever shall sell or purchase any woman or female child for the purposes of prostitution or shall knowingly derive any profit from the sale of any woman or female child shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and liable to punishment." You admitted that the girl was brought from Annam and sold to another woman, who had handed the girl | 85 each or fourteen days' hard labour for over to you, because she had borrowed $20. giving false evidence. According to your own statement you have committed an offence against the law. according to the girl's account you yourself naid 8130 for her, a statement which the jury have believed. I would not have been inclined to have punished you so severely if it had been a matter that had happened long ago: but according to Inspector Lee's account these girls were only registered last year, and you must have known then from previous convictions in this Court that it was an offence. Although the jury have acquitted you of taking the girla away to Canton to sell them, yet I think there were very suspicious circumstances. You did not tell the girls that you were going with them, and it was only plainant out of the shop. The only reason Company for the half year. Prisoner's imprisonment and whipping did i not seem to have done him any good. His Lordship said it seemed hopeless to think that a short sentence would have any good effect, but he would take into consideration the fact that the prisoner was wounded. COMMITTED FOR TRIAL. Li Achin (24) and Li Asze (20), stone cutters, were charged with unlawfull taking away the daughters of the complainants, and with carnally knowing them on the 11th instant.

The complainants are a man named Ko Ting, a bricklayer residing at No. 16, High Street. Sal Ying Pun, and a woman named Yu Ali, who was the guardian of both girls. The girls are named Ko Akus and Tam Achan, and are both fifteen years of age. After evidence had been heard, the case was committed for trial at the Criminal Sessions of the Supreme Court.

Yung Choung and two others were each sentenced to three months' imprisonment with hard labour for burglariously entering the house No. 173 Shau-ki Wan on the night of the 10th instant, and stealing therefrom a box containing property to the value of $20. The house robbed was occupied by a woman who was roused by hearing the robbers, who escaped at the time. but who were captured a few hours afterwards with some of the stolen property in their possession.

MEETING OF THE TANJONG PAGAR DOCK COMPANY.

The half yearly meeting of the shareholders of this Company was held on the 11th September at the Company's office, Collyer Quay, Singapore-Mr T. Scott, Chairman of the Board of Directors, in the A most important point-that of the investment of the reserve fund was discussed. The question is one of general interest, and has been frequently discussed strongly of opinion that to invest a reserve fund, which is to meet special contingencies in the business of the Company is to Icave that Company without real reserve fundat all; and that it is a practice which gives a light to the affairs of a Company they would not otherwise possess; that it would not be available for those contingencies it was set mide to meet; and that the practice is one which is very apt to deceive shareholders. We extract from the report of the Singapore Times the discussion on the report :-

(2.) But it will be noticed that these figures refer to Hongkong alone. Those who leave Hongkong for the Straits are not nearly so many as those who return to that fumery in the World, or John Gosnett & port,--178,000 to 259,000. This is owing Co., London.-[ADVI.] to the fact that many emigrants go direct from Amoy and Swatow by sailing vessels. etc., while most of them return by way of Hongkong. So we must add some 80,000 to the 222,000 who leave by way of Hongkong in order to acrive at the true extent of the westward flow of population; this would make about 300,000. The fact that these lands of South-east. Asia are so much nearer, making the passage money much less; that the Chinese can easily intermarry with the natives, and that the Chinese have most of the trade in their hands and occupy positions of influence, pushing the effete races of farther India into the background, all combine to swell this stream of emigration. We may also add the fact that immigration there is not checked by any restrictive legislation or popular violence, as in Australia and America.

(3.) A noticeable fact in connection with Chinese emigration, as compared with European emigration to America, is that almost all the emigrants return to their native land. Indeed, if we look at the Hongkong tables we find that during the past ten years 3,000 more Chinese have returned from foreign countries than have left for those lands. When we take into consideration the number of deaths that must occur, and the residuum who are unable to return to China on account of poverty, this appears to be a remarkable fact. The Chinese are by some thought to be devoid of patriotism; but they are certainly not wanting in love for their native land. Wherever they may roam, they wish to spend their old age at home, and to lay their bones there when they die.

between them and the Jews. They are industrious, frugal, money-loving, and essentially clannish. They form to some extent an imperium in imperio. As the Jews have their betudin and kahal and settle their disputes among themselves, so the their resignation in the hands of the share- herself, who, by her new Convention with Chinese; in the one case as in the other, these tribunals exercise an almost absolute power over their subjects. As the Jews get control of various branches of business, so the Chinese. In any of our cities any old resident will notice how Jewish places of business have taken the place of those of the older firms. While the Jews accomhow the Company's Reserve Fund is dealt | the exteritorial privileges of Europeans | modute themselves more in dress, etc., to the people among whom they live; both Jews and Chinese are essentially Orientals: they have the same quiet determination. shareholders on the question whether they cordial praise for the behaviour of the the same economical habits, the same love of small gains, the same love of display when they have gained wealth. In some respects both are desirable immigrants. from their sobriety, their quietness, their industry, etc.: but in others they are not from their secrecy, their working into each other's hands, and their clamishness. The same causes are at work producing persecution of Jews in Eastern Germany and Russia, and opposition to the Chinese in California and Australia. It seems to be rather inconsistent for Americans to be holding meetings on the Atlantic const. P. Passing showers. Q. Squally, R. > (6.) As to the effect of emigration on the Christianiantion of the Chinese. I believe it will, on the whole, be favourable. It is true many return from America and Australia bitterly projudiced against Christian (1) nations, with their mouths full of foreign oaths, and their hearts full of hatred and revengeful feelings; yet this is not the case with all. As God has different missions for in dividuals, so he has for nations. The Providential mission of England seems to be to scatter the light from her colonies in every part of the world and to elevate nations by imposing her laws upon them and diffusing Christian influences among healthen nations. The mission of the United States is to attract men to place themselves under our laws and to become assimilated to the spirit of our institutions and thus to bring them under the influences of the gospel. In order to carry out our mission, it is essential that American institutions and the American atmosphere remain American. If we receive infidel, communistic, papal or heathen people in larger masses than we can influence, and we, in our time, succumb to their influence, our mission is at an end It is like a man eating more than he can digest. America is a great outldron, where heterogenous masses are being made homogeneous. If poison must come into the pot, let it not be in such quantity as to ruin the whole. England is as a series of gas jets illumining the wor'd's darkness: America as an electric light. We must see that its June 12, Agnes Muir, light does not become darkness-that we set a bright and clear example to the pations of the earth, For America to check emigration or to establish colonies, would seem to be an abandonment of the Providential mission appointed us a fursking of the means by which we have hitherto grown great. I certainly think that Chinese immigration should not be prevented. It may be well to restrict it occasionally, or at least to do something to check the tendency of the Chinese to settle in dense masses and to monopolize some branches of trade. As far as the Christianization of the Chinese is concerned, it is much better that they should be scattered about a few in this place and a few in that, as in the Eastern States, than that they be massed together, as in San Francisco and some other places on the Pacific coast. Those employed as servants in families or as washermen, scattered in various family neighbourhoods, are much more susceptible Patroclus (s.) to Christian influences than those crowded Jason (s.) together in a "China-town" The introduction of these masses of con. Barbarossa.

THE CHINA REVIEW. PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY.

TENTH YEAR.

MIHIS Review, which was intended to meet the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of "Notes and Queries on China and Japan," has reached its Tenth Volume. The Review discusses minds of students of the "Far East" and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It in cludes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new doparture has been taken, and the Review new Gardens. gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known | City Hall, Library (8,000 volumes) and writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction, the Magazine would be made more generally

The Review department receives special present a careful and concise record Literature on China etc., and to give critiques embodying sketches of the Most recent works on such topics. Authors and Publishers are requested to forward works to "Editor, China Review, care of China

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising  $R_{-}$ view."-Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.) "The China Review * * * * has an excellent table of contents."—Celestial Empire. "The Publicationalways contains subjects of interest to sojourners in the Far East and the present issue will hold favourable if not advantageous comparison, with preceding numbers."—Celestial Empire.

"This number contains several articles of interest and value."-North-China Herald. "The present number of this periodical, * * * * opens with a review of the Foreign Trade of China during 1880. This is rather a new departure for a publication which professes to be purely literary; but considering the comparatively small circulation it enjoys at present among the commercial communities of China, we hall the innovation as likely to recommend the Review to the notice of those who take an interest in few matters beyond mercantile pursuits." North-China Herald.

"The China Reviewfor September-October fully maintains the high standard of excellence which characterises that publication, and altogether forms a very interesting and readable number. Meteorologists will find an interesting and valuable contribution by Dr. Fritsche, on "the Amount of Precipitation (Rain and Snow) of Peking," showing the results of observations made at the Imperial Russian Observatory at Peking, from 1841 to 1880. "Notes on the Dutch Occupation of Formosa," by Mr. Geo. Phillips, contains some interesting information, although much of it is second-hand. The Notices of New Books include a most generous and appreciative review of "The Divine Classic of Nan-Hua," and the Notes and Queries are as usual very interesting."-North-China Daily News.

do well to patronise."-Chrysanthemum. "The November-December number of usual, but the few articles are very interes. ting. The opening paper by Mr Herbert A. Giles on "The New Testament in Chinese" treats of a question that must necessarily be of great importance in the eyes of all missionaries . . . Mr E. H Parker's "Short Journeys in Szechuen" are continued, and a goodly instalment of these travels in the interior of China is given. Mr F. H. Balfour contributes a paper of some length entitled "The Emperor Cheng, founder of the Chinese Empire," which will be read with genuine interest by students of Chinese history, A few short notices of New Books and a number of Notes and Queries, one of which "On Chinese Oaths in Western Borneo and Java" might appropriately have been placed under a separate heading, complete the number."—H.K. Daily Press. Trubner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review:-The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the 2nd Class Cargo Boat of 600 . Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated. and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and fresh. ness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowre, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Bosids notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature o the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that private "Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary seal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its prede TYPE, No. 19, (somewhat worn but in cessor in the field, and that the China Review fairly good condition). may receive the support necessary to incure its continuance.

We have instituted as an experiment a Visitons' Column, which we trust will prove successful, and be found useful. To it will be relegated from time to time such items of information, lists, tables and other intelligence as is conthose topics which are uppermost in the sidered likely to prove vuluable to persons passing through the City, and in connection with we have opened a Select Hotel and Business DIRECTORY, applications for enrolment into which we are now ready to receive.
